We look to the past

And see the images of what we once were.

We reach for the safety of yesterday;

sharing friendships,
growing,
living, and learning Together.

We can not forget these years;

the friends gained and lost,

Our triumphs and failures,

The spirit of the team, and the lion.

The door is open.

We must be on our way.

Changes will come,

But the memories of our days and of those closest to us will always remain in images.

FRIENDS TO THE END OF TIME

The time has come for us to part.
And go our separate ways.
The sadness that is in my heart,
is sure to last for days.
Friends to the End of Time.

Oh, the memories we have shared,
The laughter and the fears.
Those moments when you showed you cared,
And silenced all my fears.
Friends to the End of Time.

We've grown so close in this short while,
Once strangers now best friends.
From day to day your joyous smile,
Shows love which never ends.
Friends to the End of Time.

On Earth we may not meet again,
But please don't say goodbye.
We'll say, "Until we meet again."
You, my friend, and I.
Friends to the End of Time.

FACULTY

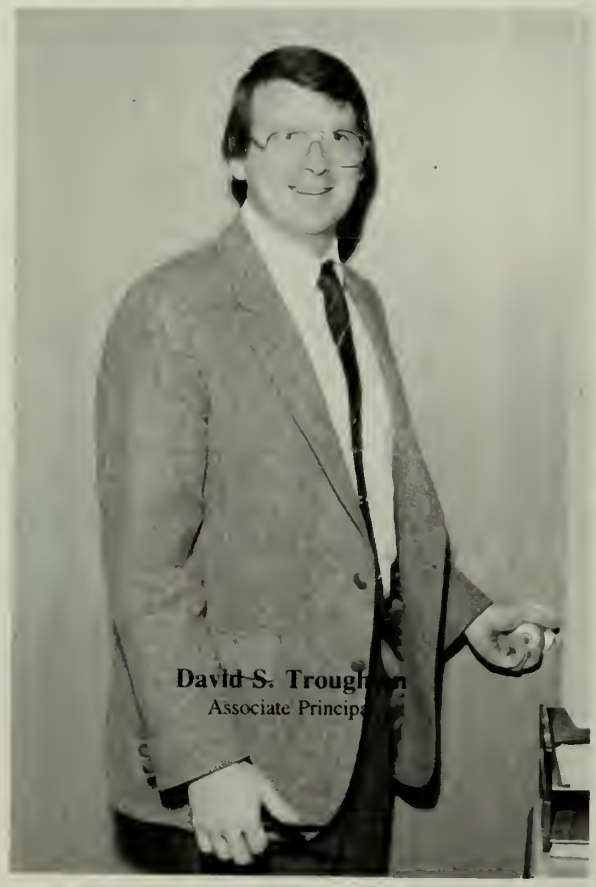
CLASS OF '86
WEST BOYLSTON HIGH SCHOOL
LION'S PRIDE
INCORPORATED 1968

86

Now that you have completed your schooling at West Boylston Jr. Sr. High School, I am proud to commend you for your accomplishments over the past four years.

The anxieties and complexities of the modern world you are about to enter are far greater than at any other time. The challenges are great, but I have the greatest confidence you people are prepared to take your place and help make our country a better place to live.

Carlton J. O'Connor
Principal



As the Class of 1986 prepares to leave us for the final time, we pause to reflect upon the experiences we have shared, the lessons we have learned, and the growth we have experienced — one and all, young and old.

Yours is a class that has been touched by reality and tempered by adversity more so than any before it. You have been humbled by the suddenness of tragedy yet steeled by the realization that life goes on. As the saying goes, "tough times don't last, but tough people do."

Yes, we have all grown, not because we have wanted to, but because we have had to. Yet, through it all, we have had one another and as a school community we have grown closer.

As the sun sets on your high school experience, understand that human relationships will continue to be your most valuable possessions and that adversity is a dark side of the wonder of life which can always be overcome with conviction, self-belief, and will. You have learned these things in a special way Class of 1986, and you will be the richer for them.

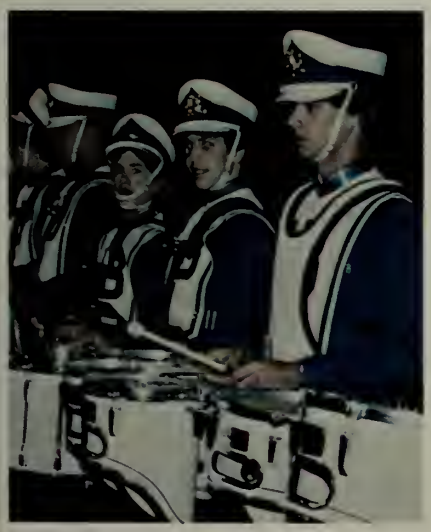
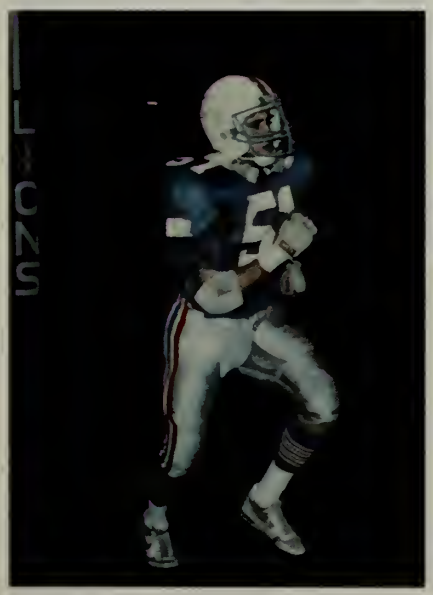
THE NIGHT THE LIONS ROARED

West Boylston is beginning to establish itself in the sport of football, and this year's team was even stronger than ever. The 1985 season was only our second under the lights at Goodale Park. Already it is setting a tradition for Friday night games attended faithfully by proud parents, alumni, students, and faculty. Led by senior captains Tony Papandrea, Chris Carrigan, and Jay Dugan, the Lions continued their success.

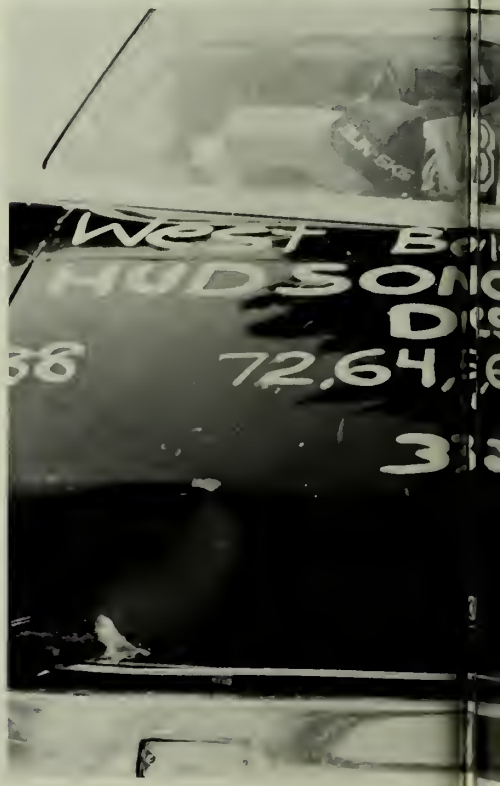
Game time is 7:15. The West Boylston Lions' marching band and cheerleaders are positioned on the field for the traditional "opening ceremonies." Soon the game is under way and the excitement begins. By the end of the season, the Student Council's concession stand is making a large profit from coffee and hot chocolate purchased by fans in hopes of keeping warm. The stands are kept alive through the cheerleaders' spirit and entertained by the band's musical selections; one of the more popular being "We Got the Beat". With everyone pulling together, the annual homecoming game was a success, both on the field and off. Through this participation and commitment, we have seen a successful football season. Congratulations to all, most notably, Mr. Priestley, Mr. Maynard and Mrs. Hudson.



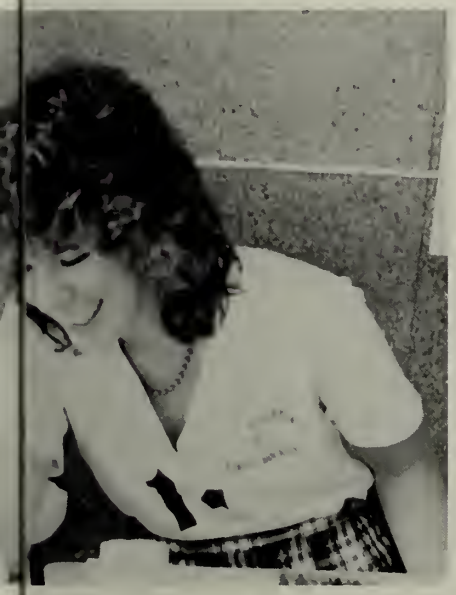


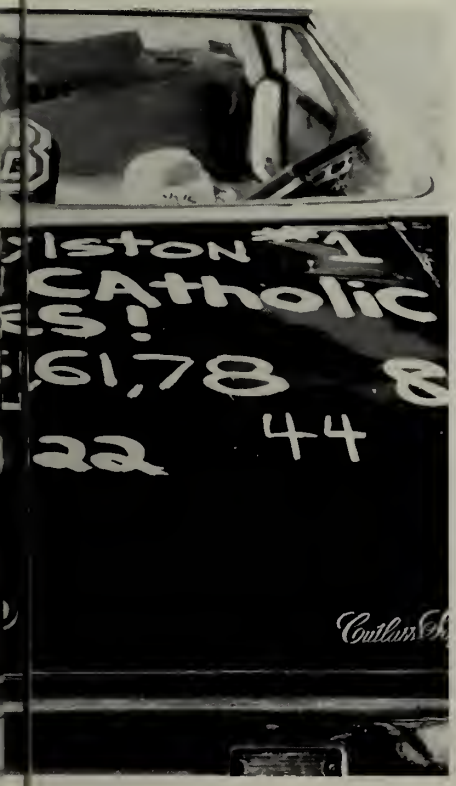
THOSE TENDER YEARS

September 16th marked the beginning of Homecoming '85. This year's theme was "Tender Years" by Beaver Brown. Students displayed their school spirit by participating in various activities throughout the week. The daily masquerade began with "Toddler Day" and continued through various stages of life with "Scout Day", "College Day" and "Old Folks Day". Activities consisted of a hula-hoop contest, a s'more eating contest, trivial pursuit, and a scavenger hunt.

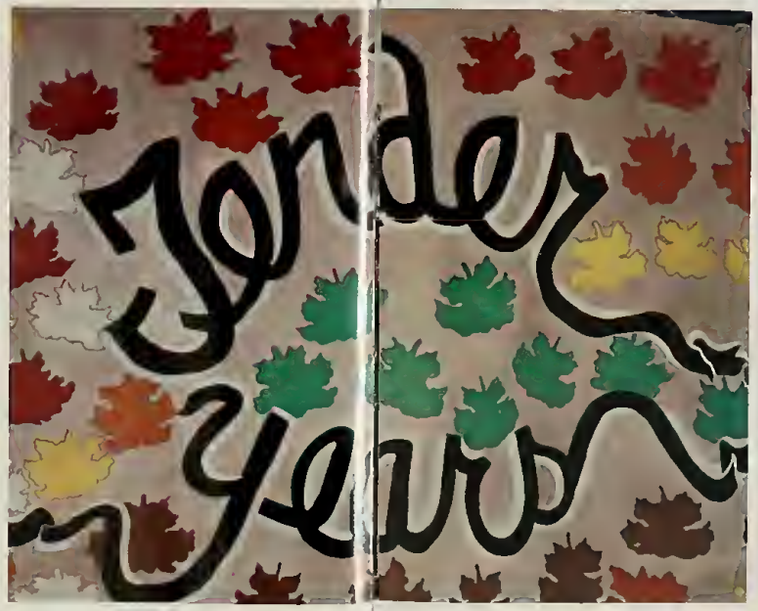


The freshmen, outnumbering the other classes, seemed to be full of enthusiasm throughout the week. The week came to an end with the traditional Blue and White Day and Pep Rally. Under the leadership of Mr. Bositis, this year's homecoming was a tremendous success.





Those Tender Years



Saturday night was the traditional Homecoming Dance. D.J.'s kept the beautifully decorated gym rocking all evening. The Court included Kris Cleary, Queen; and Chris Goyette, Susan Barakian, Michelle Larose, Kim Alicandro, Diane Bennett, Megan Cleary and Jody Blake.

Last year's musical, "Gypsy", directed by Grace Leslie, was an enjoyable activity for everyone involved.

The musical was based on the true story of Rose Lee who struggled to bring her two daughters, June and Louise to success on the stage.

Annette Devillers starred as Rose and coached her daughters. Louise (Jennifer Colangelo) and June (Julie Thomson) to fame. Herbie, played by Chris Klein assisted Rose in her endeavors while Papa (Joe Diverdi) tried to discourage the "pushy female."

"LET ME ENTERTAIN YOU"

The story develops as Rose pushes her unwilling daughter June into the business. June rebels by eloping. Her mother, deeply hurt then attempts to direct her attentions towards her other daughter, Louise. Before long Louise gains fame as Gypsy Rose Lee and makes her mother proud.

ONE MORE NIGHT
JLG

The Junior Prom, held on May 10, 1985, was a memorable experience for all who attended. Couples began to arrive at the Atrium in Worcester shortly before the 7:00 dinner hour. The music was provided by the Gallerie, which kept everyone dancing long into the night. They were even gracious enough to allow a few talented musicians (Jim Been, Joe DiVerdi, Jay Givan and Eric Tarkiainen) to have center stage to entertain us with a few songs. At 10:00, the Queen's Court was announced consisting of Kris Cleary, Chris Goyette, Janet McGuiggan and Darlene Woodill. Jennifer Dwyer had the honor of being crowned Prom Queen.

THINK PINK

On December 13, and 14 the Senior class staged one of the largest plays in the history of West Boylston High. The Senior's versatility was displayed through many demanding character portrayals such as Pat Gleason as Chief Inspector Clouseau, Jim Been in the role of Dreyfus, and Julie Thomson as Olga. Through the direction of Steven White and the dedication of the entire cast, the final result was a great success.

A GROUP TO

Each spring a formal induction ceremony into the National Honor Society is held. The selection of students is based on their achievement in the areas of scholarship, leadership, character and service. The traditional ceremony was held in the high school auditorium, where the inductees pledged themselves to serve both their community and school. Theirs was followed by speeches from Mr. O'Connor, Mrs. Marshall, and Mr. Sullivan.

The Honor Society members of this year's graduating class are Michelle Barton, Jim Been, Amy Capman, Kris Cleary, Kirk Kenneway, Lisa Lamberto, Eileen Mautner, Janet McGuiggan, Kim Morris, Brian Scanlon, Erik Tarkianen, Julie Thomson and Joe Tsagronis. The following officers were elected: Eileen Mautner, President; Amy Capman, Vice President; Lisa Lamberto, Secretary; and Julie Thomson, Treasurer. The group began last November by holding a phone-a-thon for the National Heart Association and succeeded in raising over one thousand dollars for their cause. December brought the annual Senior Citizens Christmas Party made possible through the joint effort of the NHS and Student Council. One of the most enjoyable services was assisting with the Massachusetts Special Olympics last spring. The members helped by running events and awarding prizes to the participants. On October 23, 1985, the second annual National Honor Society Convention was held at Algonquin Regional High School, with West Boylston as co-hosts. The Honor Society once again displayed it's community involvement by organizing a Halloween Party for the town's young children at Edwards. These acts exemplify the dedication of this organization. Thanks go to Ms. Holmlund, NHS advisor, whose work and caring made it possible.

BE COMMENDED

"Cheers" the popular NBC Comedy was the basis for the seniors! 1984 play comps. An episode was chosen and each line for each cast member had to be hand-written. This was indeed a challenging piece of work; but in the end, it was worth it.

The performance began with Jim Been's singing the show's theme song. From there the audience was kept laughing with great performances by the entire cast, especially the predictables, Cliff and Norm. Sam, the cocky ex-jock, and Diane, the snobbish intellectual, did their share of feuding while Carla kept tempers flaring with her usual comments and suggestions.

"LOVE HITS WILBUR"

Wilbur Maxwell has presented himself in a variety of situations on the stage of West Boylston High since the beginning of the Play Comps tradition. This year was no exception, thanks to the Class of 1986. Once again Wilbur managed to get himself into a jam; but, as predictable, he talked his way out of it. The problem that sent his heart spinning? You guessed it, a girl. As expected the audience was treated to an enjoyable half hour of comedy through the efforts of a fine group of talented students.

"ALL THE

1985 promised to be "The Year" The Year for the West Boylston Lions to shine on the football field. Led by Coach Priestley and Senior tri-captains Jay Dugan, Chris Carrigan, and Tony Papandrea, the Lions got off to a great start by upsetting Hudson Catholic 7-6 in the annual Homecoming game. The remainder of the season was filled with very close games, and the Lions lost some real heartbreakers.

On Thanksgiving day, the Lions were psyched and ready to defeat the long-time rival Grafton Indians. At the half, the score was tied at six, despite the sleet and wind. In the second half, however, the Indians took the lead and held it to the end. All in all, it was an exciting season, and the Lions gained some respect in the league while representing our school with pride.

This year's Varsity Boy's Basketball team had a tough season, finishing at the bottom of the league. With the exception of Senior Captain Brian Scanlon, who led the Lions to a 70-38 rout over Monty Tech in the Murdock Christmas Tournament by scoring 25 points, the senior players saw limited action. Instead, Coach Diamantopoulous went to his younger players early in the season, starting Freshmen Chuck and Joel Carelli. Nevertheless, the seniors hung in there and gave their best efforts — when they weren't sitting on the bench. To them, the season will be a bad memory, but for the others, there is always next year.

"START M

This is the process most students go through every morning before arriving to school. The worst part is getting out of the warm bed onto the cold floor. Those who don't ride on a bus, especially seniors, sleep later and make a mad dash for the school before the first bell rings at 7:42. If this morning was successful, then look on the bright side — one down, 179 more to go!

ME UP"

"WE DON'T NEED N

NO EDUCATION''

"WE WORK HARD

The Senior class is made up of many students who are not only hard workers in school, but also in businesses around town, where they hold down part-time jobs. These jobs enable the students to experience the amount of time and responsibility a job requires, which will be helpful to us when we finish school and begin our careers.

A) Chris McDonald and Dawn Chenard work in cosmetics at the Fair.
B) Jen Dwyer enjoys her job at Jenifers.
C) Ed Cure works for his dad at Cure's Furniture.

FOR THE MONEY"

D) Mark Eicholz, Kris Cleary, and Chris Carrigan have a good time while they work at CVS.
E) Kirsten Johnson straightens clothes at Countdown.
F) Tony Papandrea gets into his work at Menards.

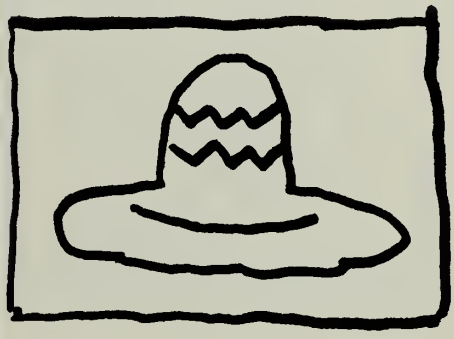
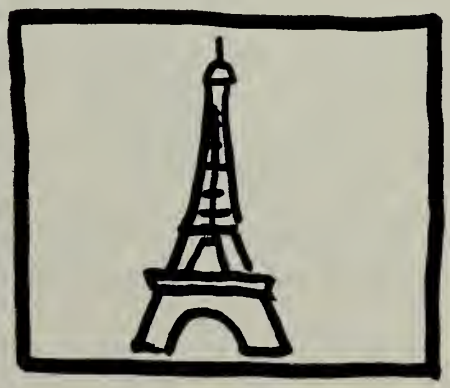
SPEAKING

Spanish is quickly becoming the most popular language in the high school, which is evident by the large membership of the Spanish Club. This year the members of the club worked together in making pinatas for the Foreign Language Christmas Party. Also, through the planning of their dedicated advisor, Mrs. Hudson, the Spanish Club had several interesting field trips.



IN TONGUES

This year the French Club worked together to organize their contribution to the Foreign Language Christmas Party. They had a great time getting people into the Christmas Spirit by singing carols and acting out a skit. Mrs. Anderson assisted the students in planning their other activities throughout the year.

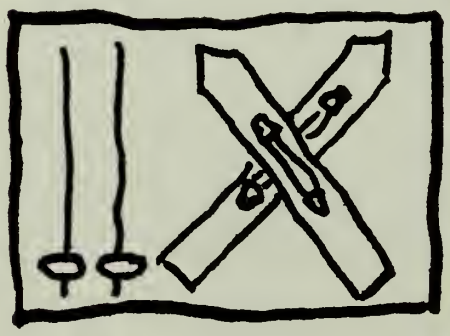


LET'S GET PHYSICAL

The Varsity Club consists of all the students who participate in Varsity athletics. The advisor, Mr. Garofoli, assists the students in organizing fundraisers to raise scholarship money for college-bound seniors.

WINTER WONDERLAND

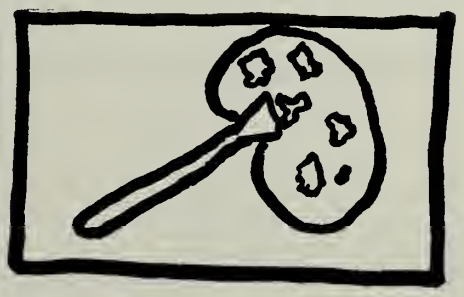
As winter arrived early this past year, students brought their skis out of the closet long before the ski program at Wachusett Mountain began. The Ski Club planned many exciting trips, including one to Austria, under the leadership of President Dave Goyette and their advisor, Mr. Maynard.



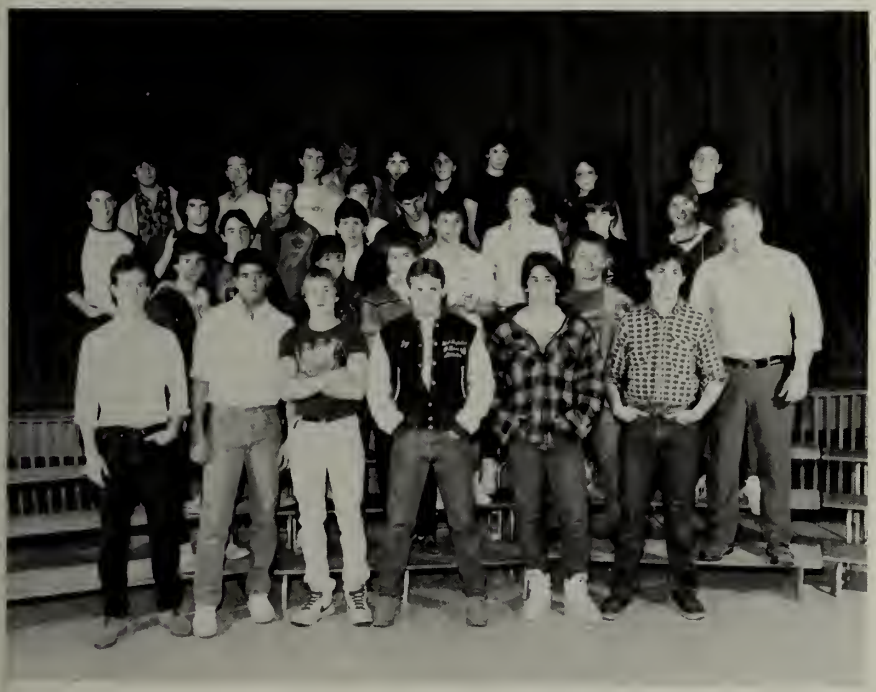
TOTAL ECLIPSE

Step into the Art room and Mrs. Boosahda, the instructor who devotes time and love to her students and their work, will help you to appreciate the creative world around us.

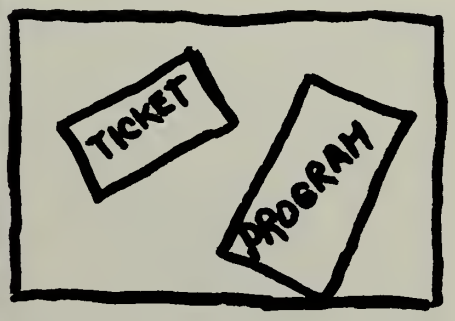
The Art Club, which contains very dedicated students, shares its talents with both the school and community. Their biggest activity this year was the mural painted on the wall of the Fire Department, which was created during the students' free time.



OF THE ARTS



The Graphic Arts Club helps us to keep track of what is going on by printing up athletic schedules, programs, and tickets. With the help of Mr. Silven, they act as printers for the school, and are a tremendous aid to all organizations.



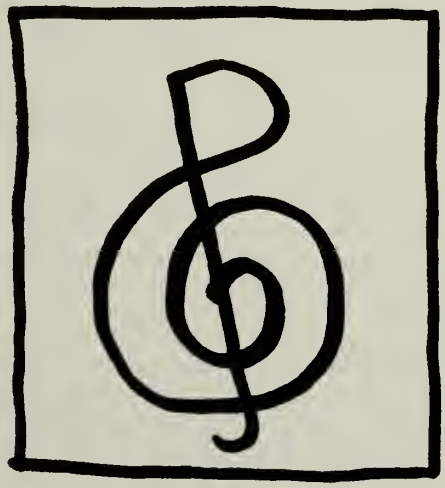
BON APPETIT

Upon first glance, one might think that the Home Ec. Club cooks for themselves. Well, for the most part, they spend time cooking for others, such as the elderly at the Oakdale Nursing Home. They enjoy pleasing other people before they think about themselves. Mrs. Gruzka, the advisor, adds just the right touch to this enthusiastic club.

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS

Members of the Business Club take courses in typing, shorthand, and accounting. The club, headed by Miss Salmon and Miss Lawrence, enables the students to learn how to run a business and get a head start on their futures.

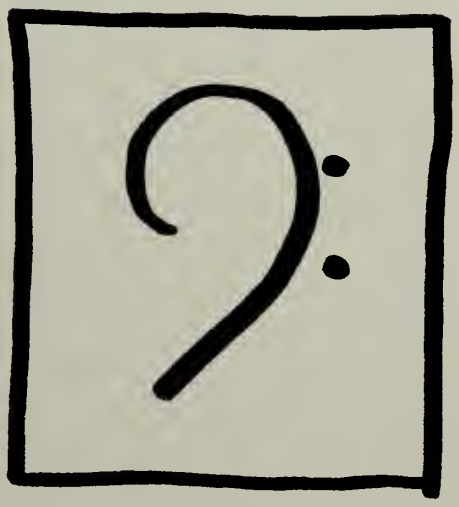
HOOKED ON MUSIC



BAND

The Music Department, under the direction of the ever-encouraging and enthusiastic Mr. Maynard, worked very hard throughout the year preparing for various competitions and concerts. The music includes everything from classical to popular and has a little bit of everything for all ages. The music of W.B.H.S. will continue to entertain for many years to come.

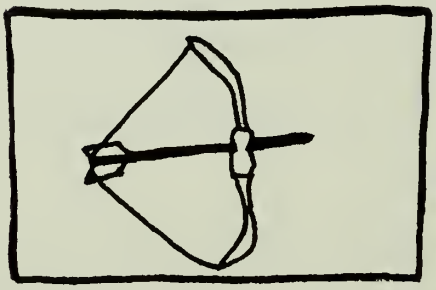
CHORUS

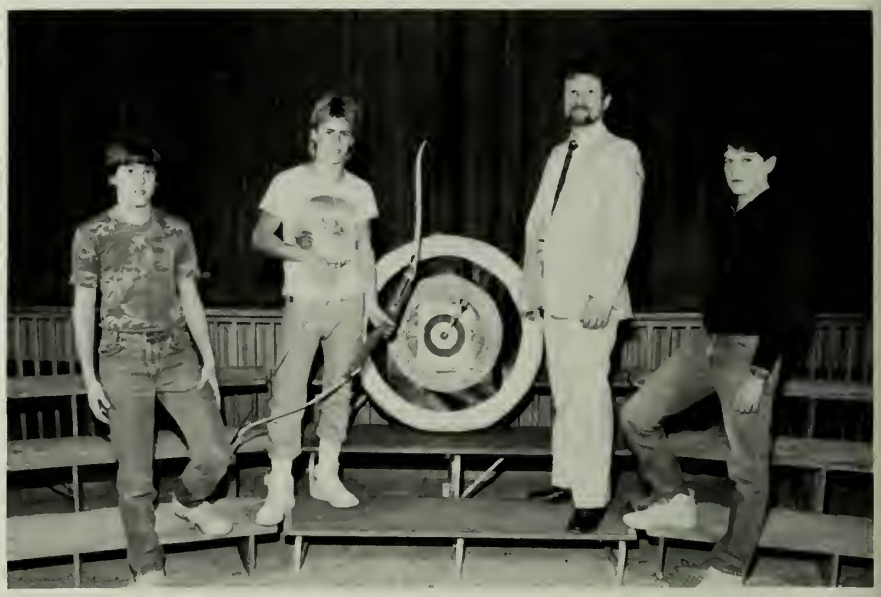


STAGE BAND

SHOOT TO THRILL

The Archery Club is made up of students interested in target shooting. Under the guidance of Mr. White, these students shoot on their own and are encouraged to remain active in their hobby.





Q.U.E.S.T.

Q.U.E.S.T. (Questioning, Understanding, and Exploring Students' Thoughts) is a new group organized this year to help students develop effective communication skills including accurate listening skills and understanding of genuine personal response. Q.U.E.S.T. also helps students develop self-confidence, self understanding, problem solving techniques, and decision making skills.

Students participate only on a voluntary basis and commit themselves to 1 hour per week for an entire semester.

GIVE MY REGARDS TO BROADWAY

West Boylston High School produces many fantastic dramatic productions, such as, musicals, play competitions, and the Senior Play. All of these would not be possible without the Drama Club and their devoted advisor, Mr. White. The club was kept busy helping out with the Senior Play, "The Pink Panther Strikes Again," which was a tremendous success.

LITERALLY SPEAKING

The Literary Magazine, under the direction of Mr. White, is publishing a collection of student writing. The first edition should include a variety of writing samples and art work representing grades seven through twelve.

4-3-2-1 ACTION

Mr. McGrail leads the Audio-Visual Club in aiding teachers with the school's equipment. These students learn how to operate projectors, overheads, and video recorders.

DO YOU COMPUTE?

The Math Club consists of a group of students who participate in math meets throughout the year. Last year they represented our school well by placing second in the division.

LEADERS OF THE PACK

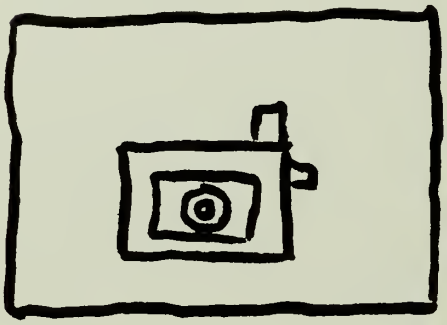
The Student Council does more for our school than any other club or organization. These students devote many hours of hard work to the different activities during the year. Some of these activities include running the school store, doing afternoon announcements, running the concession stand, and meeting every week to keep student-administration communications open. Along with their day to day activities, they organize a blood drive, assemblies, a Christmas party for the elderly, and a Secret Santa exchange with the faculty. With their involved and supportive advisor, Mrs. Hudson, things are kept running smoothly.

HIGH SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is composed of students who accumulate a designated grade point average and devote their time and abilities to the school and community. The present members include Brian Scanlon, Janet McGuiggan, Kirk Kenneway, Kim Morris, Kris Cleary, Michelle Barton, Erik Tarkiainen, Joseph Tsagronis, Julie Thomson, Lisa Lamberto, Amy Capman, Eileen Mautner, Margie Webb, Sherri Greene, Jennifer Holmes, Chris Klein, and David Leslie. Ms. Holmlund is their advisor.

HIT ME WITH YOUR BEST SHOT

The main responsibility of the Camera Club is to take and develop pictures for the yearbook. The hard work and dedication of the students and Mr. Traver helped to create an outstanding yearbook.



TURN THE PAGE

The members of the Lion's Roar staff are a highly motivated and organized group. Their responsibilities not only demand talent, but require endless hours of work. Their total efforts produce an outstanding edition of the Lion's Roar. Staff includes; First row: Janet McGuiggan; Kris Cleary, co-editor; Kirsten Johnson; Kim Morris, co-editor; Kristine McDonald; Dawn Chenard. Second row: Marc Sherwin; Amy Capman; Julie Thompson; Eileen Mautner; Joe DiVerdi, art editor; Jay Givan; Jim Been; Also Lisa Lamberto.

SPECIAL THANKS

Last May, when the Yearbook Committee met for the first time, no one knew how much work we had in front of us. This work took an exceptional amount of time, and on several occasions, we were ready to give up. However, our dedicated advisor, Mrs. Sharron Bouvier, was always there to lend a hand and give us the encouragement that we needed. Her patience and determination helped to make the 1986 Lion's Roar so memorable.

As this was her last year as advisor, I would like to take this time to give her a special thanks. Seldom are people lucky enough to work with someone who is so dedicated. It takes a very special person to take on the responsibility that producing a year book requires, and Mrs. Bouvier is just that — a very special person. To her, we give our sincerest appreciation and love.

We would also like to take this time to thank the following people for their hard work on the 1986 Lion's Roar: Joe Diverdi, Divider pages and artwork; Lisa Lamberto, Prologue and Epilogue; Amy Capman and Eileen Mautner, Activities; Janet McGuiggan and Jim Been, Advertising; Becky Parda, Michelle Pendelton, and Mr. Traver, photography; Ken Cleveland and Mr. Winthrop Handy, Photography. Also, Dawn Chenard, Kris McDonald, Kirsten Johnson, Jen Gilson, and Ed Cure deserve a special thanks for their willingness to do anything to help.

Thanks once again for a job well done!

— Kim and Kris

NEED MONEY FOR SCHOOL?

GET A LOW COST STUDENT LOAN FROM WCiS

Higher education costs can really put a dent in your wallet. But more and more students are finding that a low cost student loan is a relatively pain-free way of taking the edge off tuition bills.

And there are other things students are discovering: the low student loan interest rate of just 8%, for new applicants, and the money that's available—up to $2,500 a year for undergraduates and $5,000 a year for graduates.

And you can apply to the school of your choice. Over 7,500 colleges, universities, technical and hospital schools across the United States are eligible for this student loan program.

To find out more, or to apply for a student loan, call or visit any WCiS office.
